Red Cross Names Fund Chairman

George M. Van Peurse of Zeeland, former state representative from Ottawa county, will serve as fund drive chairman this year for the annual Red Cross roll call which starts March 14 in Ottawa County.

His appointment was made at a meeting of township Red Cross representatives Wednesday night in Hotel Warm Friend.

The quota for Ottawa county this year is $48,642. Already $21,890 has been contributed from the Holland United Fund and $13,700 from the Tri-Cities campaign in Grand Haven. The current drive will be promoted mainly in other parts of the county to raise the remaining $13,052.

Township chairmen follow: Allendale, Mrs. Dale Lieffers; Chester, Mrs. Erwin Hassold; Crockery, Mrs. Lewis Taylor;

George M. Van Peurse

Polkton, Robert Sanger; Tallmadge, Mrs. William Baldwin; Wright, George Kensi; Olive, Connie Nienhuis; Port Sheldon, Mrs. Albert Demberger; Zeeland, Mrs. N. J. Danhof; Blenden, Jerry Kraal; Georgetown, Webber Haan; Zeeland Township, Mrs. John Myaard.

A discussion at Wednesday's meeting brought out the fact that the backbone of Red Cross is its volunteer program, not its war-time work or disaster aid. In the case of Ottawa county, it means hundreds of volunteers donating thousands of hours of time each year in carrying on such programs as blood banks, swimming instruction, visiting veterans' hospitals, doing volunteer work in local hospitals, conducting first aid classes, home nursing and the like.

But to correlate such work and to be effective in larger programs, Red Cross needs its national organization to provide instructors for training other instructors, to organize disaster aid and to provide the network of communications for effective work with the armed forces.

The 1960 fund campaign chairman was elected to the House of Representatives in 1950 and remained a member of that body until a year ago when he resigned to become legal counsel for the Holland Furnace Co. He attended Hope College and received a law degree from Chicago-Kent College of Law in Chicago in 1939. He practiced law in Peru, Ill., for six years and then returned to Zeeland. He was elected speaker of the House of Representatives in 1956 and remained so until he retired. His father formerly pastor of Trinity Reformed Church in Holland and First Reformed Church in Zeeland.

Car, Truck Crash Injures Two In City

Two persons were injured Wednesday night when a car and semi-trailer truck collided at the intersection of US-31 and 32nd St. at 9 p.m.

Mrs. Nellie Fairbanks, 67, of 203 West 17th St., is listed in fairly good condition today at Holland Hospital with a possible head injury and bruises and lacerations of the left hand and both knees, according to hospital officials.

Holland police said Mrs. Fairbanks was a passenger in a car driven by 76-year-old William Vandenberg of 294 West 22nd St. Vandenberg was released from the hospital following treatment for an abrasion of the head.

Police identified the driver of the truck as John A. Rostron, 37, of route 1, Belding. Rostron was not injured in the accident.

Police said Rostron was driving south on US-31 and Vandenberg was driving west on 32nd St. when the vehicles collided at the intersection.

Rostron told police he swerved to the right in an effort to avoid hitting Vandenberg's car, and his truck skidded into a ditch.

'Spring Fancies' Style Show Delights Audience

A three-year-old boy in a red blazer wandered onstage at the "Spring Fancies" style show Wednesday and before he left had sent the audience into gales of laughter.

Men, women, girls and boys of varying ages modeled the styles sponsored by the V.F.W. Auxiliary 2144 held in the Woman's Literary Club, but Marty Kole Jr. was the personality hit when he grinned impishly at the audience.

A blue polished dress featuring embroidered leaves on the skirt touched with gold worn by Miss Sylvia Fisher started the parade of models. A pewter-green coat cut in straight lines with side gashes for walking ease was another hit and worn by Miss Diane Klaasen.

Mrs. John Sas created a soothing change of pace from the cascade of bright colors as she wore a black crepe dress with matching jacket accented by a white collar.

Alive colors, fancy embroidery and full skirts were the outstanding trends of the spring clothes shown. Among the men's wear, combinations of gray were prevalent although the new pewter green and olive coordinated with gold were especially striking.

Black patent accessories were popular. Herman Tuls' golfing togs combined a neutral tone jacket and trousers with a black knit shirt. Tom Weller and Dave Van Hoeve were the other men models.

Karen Dirkse walked onstage in a yellow and white dress topped by a white, shorty coat. Mary Burwitz chose a flame red coat with white buttons over her gray and blue striped dress hat that was accented by a sea-blue satin cummerbund.

Ensembles of coordinating Jamaica shorts, deck pants and printed blouses were shown by Miss Mary Fryling, Miss Gene Vandepels, Miss Nancy Sonneveldt, Karen Dirkse, Jill Moeller, tiny three-year-old Vicky Nyhof and Mrs. Peter Kaleva. Fluoride Clinics Set In County

Plans are being completed for the summer program of topical application of sodium fluoride for children's teeth in Ottawa county, according to Robert Gordon, chairman of the dental committee of the Ottawa County Health Council. This program, now in its eighth year, is sponsored by the dental health committee in cooperation with the Ottawa County Department.

For the first time this year, the program is extended to a limited number of pre-school children 4 and 5 years old, as well as those in the second, fifth and eighth grades. These treatments should be given every three years through the elementary grades.

The program has been approved by dentists in Ottawa county, the Michigan Department of Health and the Ottawa County Health Department. School authorities are strongly urging every parent to take advantage of the opportunity to have their children's teeth treated. Fees must be in by March 11.

Appointment cards, with the center and dates of treatment, will be sent to the family about a week before the scheduled time. Each child will visit the center four times, and no series of treatment will extend more than two weeks. Centers will operate from the middle of June to the end of August.

A tentative schedule follows:

Spring Lake, third and fourth weeks of June; Grand Haven, July; Jenison, third and fourth weeks of June; Allendale, first and second weeks of July; Coopersville, third and fourth weeks of July; Conklin, fifth week of July; Jamestown, third week of June; Hudsonville, fourth week of June; and first, second and third weeks of July; Zeeland, fourth and fifth weeks of July; Beechwood, third and fourth weeks of June, and first, second and third weeks of July; Montello Park, fourth and fifth weeks of July; Holland, all summer.

Since only a limited number of pre-school children will be admitted for treatment, parents interested may obtain application blanks or further information from the health department in the county branch building.

New Trend Relaxes Rules Speaker Tells Garden Club

The Japanese influence in flower arrangements is being revived, Mrs. Zelda Wyatt Schulte, noted flower arranger, judge and author told an interested audience of members and guests of the Holland Garden Club Thursday afternoon.

Discussing the new trend in flower arrangements, Mrs. Schulte said that most of the old hampering man-made rules are going into the discard and the new free form is coming into its own. She traced the art of flower arranging in this country back to the beginning 25 years ago and spoke with evident delight at the new rules which eliminate all the bothersome details of rules that previously tied so many otherwise creative arrangers.

During her lecture, Mrs. Schulte showed a traditional piece and then brought out a new one designed from a spring mounted on a small block with a sprig of euphorbia as the only addition. New designs stress a natural growth, not trying to improve on nature, but studying the lines of various plants and then using them the way they grow.

"Watch the fashion magazines," she said, "and then dare to be as bold with colors as the clothes designers are. Could you dare to imagine mauve and bright red? It is shown in dazzling effect in a current fashion magazine."

Plans are being completed for the annual All-College Sing to be held Saturday at 8 p.m. in Holland Civic Center. Co-chairmen for the event are Wallace Van Buren and Miss Adina Yonan, Hope students.

Sexton Bounces Holland, 74-61

Minneapolis Symphony Thrills Large Audience

A deeply attentive full house applauded the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra Thursday night in Civic Center, marking the close of the 1959-60 concert series of the Holland Civic Music Association.

As headliner for the series, the Minneapolis Symphony which performed under its talented conductor, Antal Dorati, thrilled the large audience with a program of concert favorites which included Beethoven's sixth (Pastoral) symphony and Haydn's 101st symphony.

The soul-satisfying performance opened with the overture to "Euryanthe," a von Weber opera, which demonstrated the fine balance of instruments in an orchestral work of peculiar strains of melody solely belonging to this composer of the early 19th century.

A special feature of Thursday's program was the beautiful sixth symphony of Beethoven in which the orchestra told a story in music of the sounds of nature, the song of birds, the happy village festival, a storm and the peaceful song of thanksgiving after the storm.

The orchestra departed from the scheduled program in the second half and instead of the Richard Strauss tone poem "Don Juan" played Haydn's symphony No. 101, a delightful tuneful masterpiece which brought out contrasts in the quietest pianissimos and the sprit dance music. The last scheduled number was the Verdi overture to "Voices of Destiny," which was well received.

For encores, the orchestra played Dvorak's No. 1 and the overture to Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro."

Conductor Dorati had complete control of his musicians although his department on the podium was less athletic than many other conductors. As fifth permanent conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony which is one of the country's oldest musical institutions, Antal Dorati continues a fine tradition and has added considerably to the already highly acclaimed and popular institution.

The symphony's appearance in Holland was a happy occasion for both the community and the visitors. Since it was the first visit to Holland for most musicians, many were impressed by the town, their hotel accommodations, the auditorium and the appreciative audience. The audience, in turn, loved the orchestra.

On a few occasions, the audience slipped from past sophistication and applauded between movements of symphonic works — something not done in larger cities. But this is common in many communities and orchestra members took it in good stride, showing neither annoyance nor amusement.

Lumber Firm Entered

New Pension Forms Mailed To Veterans

Forrest Stewart, an accredited representative of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be at the VFW Post No. 2144 club at 139 1/2 North River Ave. every second and fourth Thursday of the month from 1 to 3:30 p.m. to assist and give competent advice concerning the new pension act which goes into effect July 1, 1960.

The Veterans Administration is currently mailing to all veterans and widows in receipt of pension benefits election forms concerning the new pension act.

Joseph W. Mann, Department Service Officer, Veterans of Foreign Wars, warned that if more than 47,000 Michigan veterans and their beneficiaries, currently receiving some $3,577,640 a month in Veterans Administration pensions, failed to exercise a proper judgment, they could find a reduction in their monthly award.

A feature of the new act is that the beneficiaries must decide whether to receive payments under the present law or to transfer to the new program. Once an election has been completed, there is no returning to the old law. Therefore, it is imperative that individuals affected be fully informed as to their entitlement under the new act. The complicated new law provides higher rates for some recipients, but imposes restrictions on others.

It was further stated by Mr. Mann that World War II and Korean Conflict widows, as well as their children, whose claims for death pension were previously denied because their husband did not have a compensable disability at the time of his death, may now be entitled under this statute. The new law does not include this compensable provision.

If the widow has remarried, she should investigate the possibility of death pension for her children. He urged that before a decision is made by anyone concerned by Public Law 86-211, he obtain competent advice from individuals thoroughly trained in veterans' affairs.

Scouts Dave Looman, Doyle Stroop, Gary Scholten, Wayne Kruid, Kent Stroop, and Richard Looman each lighted two flanking white candles and explained two of the Scout Laws.

Assistant Scoutmaster, Fred Vande Vusse, introduced the new Scoutmaster, Dr. Clark Weersing who then introduced the new Troop Committee and presented each of them with a Universal Scout Lapel pin.

The Troop Committee is headed by John Du Mez, chairman; with Chester Van Lier, secretary and treasurer; Ken Armstrong, advancement; Jim Krull, outdoors; George Nash, activities and special events; Harold Scholten, neighborhood man and chaplain; Don Johnson, institutional representative. Man Acquitted

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Municipal Judge Jacob Ponstela Friday rendered a verdict of not guilty following a non-jury trial Thursday afternoon in which Anthony Switons, 33, Grand Rapids, was charged with drunk driving. Switons was arrested by state police Jan. 12 after his car ran off US-16 in Crockery Township and struck a tree. He pleaded not guilty the following day.

KALAMAZOO (Special) — A smooth-operating Lansing Sexton basketball team dumped Holland High's tournament plans here Wednesday night with a 74-61 victory before 5,500 jam-packed fans in the Western Michigan University Fieldhouse.

The Big Reds, defending state Class A kings, now have a 18-1 record and will meet St. Joseph, 37-51 victors over Kalamazoo Central, in the regional finals Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the Western Fieldhouse. Holland finished with a 12-5 record.

It will take a great team to derail the Sexton express from winning its second straight state crown. The Big Reds have everything a good team needs with emphasis on quickness, fine mobility and fast recovery.

The Big Reds didn't make many mistakes and frequently if they did make a mistake, they reacted so quickly that they turned the misplay into a break. Their ball-handing on the press resulted in many pass interceptions.

Holland had one chance in the game when they came within one point in the third quarter, 40-39, but then again Sexton showed its class and scored eight straight points to move out 48-39 and controlled the play the rest of the game.

Sexton went a little sour early in the third quarter after building up a 37-28 halftime bulge. Glenn Van Wieren started the Holland rally with a basket and free shot and then Ron Maat scored on a break before Sexton tallied.

Herrick Public Library Landscape Bid Accepted

Much study and planning has culminated in a final design and bid for the landscaping at the new Herrick Public Library.

The landscape committee of the Holland Garden Club and Prof. Carl S. Gerlach, of Michigan State University, a professional landscape architect, met many times in preliminary and final meetings to study first drafts and final plans for the landscaping at the new library.

The final draft was accepted by the entire committee and Prof. Gerlach, who was employed by the Garden Club, after he had consulted with Carl Purser, the library architect. Bids were received with the low bid of Joe Nelis of Grand Haven accepted.

To carry out the effect of "floating" as persons approach the front steps and ascend, light, airy types of shrubs were chosen in accordance with the present trend in landscaping.

Plants were selected that would do well in sandy soil and survive the winter. The planting will appear as correct from the inside as the outside.

The architect planned for winter interest as well as other seasons. Berry producing plants and shrubs of interesting design and bark color were selected.

The planting is scheduled to start in April.

Members of the committee for the landscaping of the library were Mrs. J. J. Brower, Mrs. Carl S. Cook and Mrs. L. W. Lamb.

Jacob De Graaf, park department superintendent, was awarded a scholarship to the Landscape Design course to be offered at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor in April.

Mrs. Lamb gave the landscape committee report and announced the bid at the Garden Club meeting Thursday afternoon.

Christian High Seniors To Give Comedy Drama

Holland Christian High School's senior class will present the three act comedy-drama, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," on March 30, 31 and April 1 at the Woman's Literary club.

The well-known play was written by Rudolph Besier and will be directed by Mrs. Bastian Kruitthof of the Holland Christian English department. Set in a Victorian atmosphere, the play concerns one of the great and beautiful love stories in English literature — that of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning. The two lovers came to know each other through their poetry, but it was only Browning's insistence that finally brought the two together.

Marriage seemed impossible for them. Elizabeth was an invalid and furthermore, her father seemed to oppose marriage for any members of the household. There are many tense and dramatic moments in the play due to the real conflict between Barrett and his children whom he attempts to rule with an iron hand. The play is also filled with lines of great beauty and significance which tax the interpretative abilities of those who speak them. The entire action of the play takes place in the bed-sitting room of Elizabeth Barrett at 50 Wimpole Street in London. Cast in the role of Elizabeth

Barrett is Carol Tuls while Robert Browning will be portrayed by Paul Brink. Delwyn Nykamp will take the part of the father, Edward Moulton-Barrett. Other cast members are Ruth De Weerd, Karen Koops, Aletta Bron, Joyce Weener, Dave Vander Vliet, John Joldersma, Bob Tubergen, Ken Koeman, Jim Lucas, Ed De Vries, Dale Cooper, Wally Hoeksma, Dan Vander Vliet and Vern Wedeven.

Safety Council Official Warns of Rising Traffic Toll

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — More than 100 persons attended the annual dinner meeting of the Ottawa County Citizens Safety Council here Thursday night, according to County Safety Director, Avery D. Baker of Holland.

Paul Jones, director of special projects for the National Safety Council, told the group that this country can expect a costly toll of dead and injured on the nation's highways unless drivers take it upon themselves to exercise caution.

Jones said that "unless we do better there will be a traffic toll in 1970 of 33,000 lives and two million injured at a cost of nine billion dollars. The driver himself is the basic solution to the problem," Jones said.

The safety official predicted that in 10 years 120 million drivers will be operating 100 million vehicles over a trillion miles of U.S. roads annually.

Following a welcome coffee kietz at 4 p.m., 70 persons participated in seminars to discuss traffic, home and fire safety and teenage driving. The seminar was followed by dinner at 6:30 p.m.

After the talk by Jones, in which he called the traffic situation one of the great unsolved social problems of our time, the council elected its new officers for the coming year.

Sgt. Milton Swingle of the Grand Haven State Police post was elected president. Six persons were named as vice presidents to supervise work in various areas of safety.

Newly-elected vice presidents are Marinus De Young of Allendale, Hilbert De Kleine of Hudsonville, Robert Wolbrink of Holland, Don Vos of Zeeland and Clifford Burmeister and Claude Ver Duin of Grand Haven.

Mrs. La Verne Regnerus of Holland was elected treasurer of the organization.

Directors for each of the council's safety divisions were elected at the Thursday meeting. Traffic Safety Director is William L. Kennedy of Allendale; Water Safety director, Richard Dart of Grand Haven; Fire Safety, Chief Henry Hobeke of the Grand Haven Fire Department; Farm Safety, Mrs. Thomas E. Kraai of Zeeland and Industrial Safety, Gordon Van Putten of Holland. The group will also choose a representative from the organization's youth council which is now being formed.

Awards were presented to five area young people for outstanding safety posters. The grand award went to Bob Brolin of Holland, a sixth grade student at Longfellow School. Other winners were Kathy Talsma, a sixth grader at Hudsonville Christian School; Douglas Koning, in the sixth grade at Southside Christian School in Holland; and Karen Hunkerink, a junior at Zeeland High. Prizes were awarded according to age groups.

The Safety Council presented Certificates of commendation to Smitty's Beverage Co., Ottawa Savings and Loan Association, Holland Association of Insurance Agents and Vanden Berg Advertising Co. for their active parts in promoting safety through the use of billboard signs.

Two groups, the Wolbrink Insurance Agency for their "Proceed with Caution" weekly radio program, and the Holland Chapter of the American Red Cross, for their contribution to water safety through summer swimming classes, were presented awards of honor.

SPRING IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Spring is just around the corner, but according to the weatherman and the groundhog we may have some lower temperatures and more winter.

Our President will be in Washington tonight and Congress still sleeps on the subject of civil rights. We had hoped the President would bring some of the warm weather back with him from Puerto Rico.

The President recently said "any thought of the United States alone developing a so-called master plan for the raising of living standards throughout the hemisphere has been rejected by the leaders of the states I have just visited and is foredoomed to failure."

He said, however, that the United States' Latin American neighbors need international credit from government and private sources and such financial assistance should be extended on a much broader basis than just from the United States alone.

"Only hard thinking and hard work will do the job and they must be accompanied by a most determined drive to eliminate ignorance and correct misunderstanding."

We have many problems today and they are not growing any less in number. With the population over the country and world continuing to increase, and more and more of the countries working for the independence and government there are bound to be more and more problems.

We think that it is possible to iron out great numbers of the problems and it seems that all the trips that President Eisenhower has made have been good for our country and many of the countries that he has visited.

We wonder just how the summit conference will work. There will be any number of meetings before that time. All of these meetings are geared to help keep the peace. As long as they are working in this direction there cannot, in our opinion, be too many meetings.

Before Governors and Kings
Acts 26:1, 26:19-32
By C. P. Dame

It is the duty of every Christian to be a witness. We can all learn from Paul how to witness for the Lord. We need something of his courage, tact and wisdom in order to successfully witness for the Christ.

1. The high and the low need Christ. Roman soldiers brought Paul from Jerusalem to Caesarea in order to save him from being killed by forty Jewish assassins who had plotted to take his life.

At Caesarea Paul appeared before Felix the Roman governor. The Jews charged Paul with sedition and treason which Paul denied. Felix gave no verdict but he did ask Paul to preach to him and Drusilla his wife, which he did. The guilty conscience heard a soul-searching sermon on righteousness, temperance and judgment to come which made the governor tremble. He sent for Paul several times but never again did he tremble.

Two years passed, Felix was recalled as governor and Festus was appointed. The new governor went to Jerusalem three days after his arrival at Caesarea and talked to the leading Jews who wanted him to send Paul to Jerusalem for trial. They planned to kill him on the way. Paul refused and appealed to Caesar which appeal was granted him since he was a Roman citizen.

King Agrippa, the great-grandson of Herod the Great, with his sister Bernice called on Festus who told him about Paul. Festus had to write to the emperor about Paul and did not know what to write. Agrippa asked to hear Paul and on the next day Paul appeared before the king, his sister, the governor, the military tribunes and the prominent men of the city and spoke. God had said that Paul would speak before kings and governors.

2. We are all given opportunities to speak for the Lord. Paul knew how to speak before all kinds of people and he always said the right thing at the right time.

In the beginning of his address Paul said that he was pleased to be able to speak before a man who knew Jewish customs and laws. In this fine address Paul tells about his devout youth and how he persecuted Jesus and the Christian Church, and how he was converted on the road to Damascus and ordered to preach to the Gentiles.

In verse 9 Paul says that it was his duty to oppose Jesus Christ and in verse 19 he speaks of the necessity of being obedient to the heavenly vision. The cause Paul opposed he now propagated with all his powers. People may change. Once Paul persecuted Christ and later preached Him. The work God gave to Paul is still the work of the Church—to summon people to repent and turn to God and do the works of repentance. Every Christian has opportunities to speak for Christ.

3. Those who hear the Gospel do not always respond aright. As Paul was preaching Christ with great enthusiasm Festus interrupted him and said to him that he was mad. A cold man like Festus could not understand the enthusiastic Paul. With splendid poise Paul replied to Festus, saying, "I am not mad noble Festus but speak forth the words of truth and soberness" and then he turned dramatically to Agrippa and asked him, "King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets?" and before the king could answer he said, "I know that thou believest."

The king replied, "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian." The noble words of Paul followed, "I would to God that not only thou but also all that hear me this day were both almost and altogether such as I am, except these bonds."

The king refused Paul's invitation. He was unwilling to give up his sins and accept Jesus as his Saviour and live the Christian life—the price was too high for him. Those who want Christ must give up all and turn wholly to Him.

White House Conference Objectives Are Reviewed

The part Ottawa County has played in the preparation for the White House Conference on Children and Youth to be held in Washington the latter part of this month was explained by a panel of seven committee members at a meeting of the Public Affairs group of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon.

The county committee headed by Mrs. Gerald Breen of Holland has been at work the greater share of 1959 collecting data on the needs of young people and the problems that confront them. Several surveys were conducted and several questionnaires circulated among young people.

Mrs. Vernon D. Ten Cate told how the local committee was assembled and went about its work, its compelling interest in the project, resulting in going above the call of duty in compiling certain data for their own interests and satisfaction. Others participating were Mrs. Walter W. Scott, Mrs. Donald F. Brown, Mrs. Gerald Van Wyke, Mrs. Daniel F. Clark and Mrs. Marvin Verplank of Zeeland. Miss Geraldine Dykhuizen of Grand Haven also was a committee member.

Mrs. Scott reviewed previous White House conferences which are held every 10 years. The first was started in 1909 when Theodore Roosevelt was president and was devoted to the plight of orphans. In 1919 when Woodrow Wilson was president, the subject was child health and welfare standards which speeded child labor laws.

The most significant conference was held in 1930 when Herbert Hoover was president. Largely devoted to health and welfare of children with emphasis on pediatrics, this 1930 conference set the stage for many changes in public education. In 1940 when Franklin Delano Roosevelt was president, the conference emphasized the needs of children and their place in democracy. Much the same subjects were studied in the 1950 man.

Mrs. Scott said Dr. I. J. Lubbers, president of Hope College, was a delegate to the 1950 conference. Ed Prins, superintendent of buildings and grounds for the public schools, will be a delegate this year. He was appointed by Gov. G. Mennen Williams. The theme this year concerns trends in a rapidly changing world and their effect on the individual child.

Attendance at White House Conferences has increased from 200 in 1909 to more than 6,000 in 1960. The coming conference, the first to deal with values and ideals, will have a 10 per cent youth delegation.

Mrs. Clark explained some of the adult projects carried on by the committee with emphasis on parent-child relations and a need for more family activity, plus guidance and counseling in the schools.

Mrs. Verplank of Zeeland said questionnaires in the school reflected the stability of the community, with most children living in the same house they were born in. They also were children who saw their grandparents about once a week. Yet in this small community, out of 68 questionnaires, there were 48 different jobs held by fathers. The questionnaire also revealed that Zeeland youngsters are extremely busy.

Mrs. Van Wyke explained other projects emphasizing choice of a career in higher education. She said the study revealed most young people should have closer relationships with their parents.

Mrs. H. K. Alexander, Public Affairs chairman, presided.

Christian Defeats Unity To Capture District Title

Maroons Break Contest Open In 2nd Half

ZEELAND (Special) — Holland Christian's Maroons copped another class B district championship here Saturday night by taking a hard fought 63-54 decision over Hudsonville Unity Christian. A sellout crowd of more than 2,000 fans watched the title game in the Zeeland gym.

Coach Art Tuls Maroons broke the game wide open in the second half after a nip and tuck first half which saw the locals holding a slim one point margin at intermission. The Hollanders really pulled away in the last two quarters to hold 16 point margins on two occasions. Unity now has a 15-5 season record, with three losses coming at the hands of the Maroons.

The locals played like champions and deserved the tension-packed victory. Unity with its best club in history, gave the Maroons all they wanted for two periods but wilted under the Maroon attack in the final periods. Holland's ability to contain the Unity fast break as well as almost completely stopping high scoring Ron Schuitema proved the key to the victory. Christian's three guards, Ken Walters, Doug Windemulder and Tom Bouman did an outstanding job on Schuitema as they stuck with him on almost every move. In the second half, the rebounding of the Maroons, led by Frank Visser, Jim Smits and Vern Wedeven was tremendous as they swept the defensive boards clear, limiting the Crusaders to just one shot.

Coach Andy Ten Harnseld used defensive strategy of his own as he had his club set in a modified zone known as the "box and one". Under this plan, the Crusaders had four men playing a zone defense with one player assigned strictly to guard the high scoring Visser. It meant that Visser had two men guarding him through the first half and limited his shooting a great deal.

A switch sending Visser to the post position on the foul line in second half broke the zone wide open as the Maroons scored easy layups with Visser getting 12 points. Some great outcourt shooting by Walters, Smits and Bouman kept the Maroons in the ball game during the first half. Walters hit five, Bouman two and Smits three during the first two periods.

The Hollanders opened the scoring and built up 5-1 and 7-3 leads before Unity's great center, Roger Bergman started to connect. The locals again moved to a 11-7 count before the losers scored nine straight points with Bergman getting six to take a 16-11 lead, their biggest of the game. By the first quarter horn the Maroons had whittled the count to 17-15.

It was nip and tuck during the second period with both clubs setting a fast pace and taking one or two point leads. The count was knotted three times before the Hollanders managed to eke out a 33-32 halftime bulge.

The Maroons opened with a flurry to start the second half to move out to a 42-34 lead within a couple of minutes. With Visser leading the way on the boards and in the shooting department the Maroons held 10 point margins twice during the period. With their fast break not effective, the Crusader offense sputtered badly.

as the locals outscored them 17-9 to take a 50-41 lead at the horn. There was no stopping the determined Maroons now as they steadily increased their margin to 55-42, 59-44 before holding a 61-45 cushion with three minutes remaining. The Maroons went into a control pattern while the Crusaders who switched from their zone defense went into pressing tactics. The locals led 63-47 before the Crusaders were able to whittle the final count a bit.

Christian was in foul trouble during much of the game with both Capt. Vern Wedeven and reserve Ben Disselkoe leaving via the foul route. Wedeven was in foul trouble early and played less than half of the game. At the charity line, the locals hit on 13 out of 19 tries while Unity connected on 16 out of 32 attempts.

Forward Jim Smits led a balanced scoring attack for the Maroons with 18 points, followed by Visser with 17 and Walters with 13. Bergman led all scorers with 21 points, followed by Cal Aukerman with 16.

First Time Holland, Maroons Take Districts in Same Year

ZEELAND (Special) — For the first time in history, Holland and Holland Christian each won a district basketball championship the same year.

It was only the second year that such a thing was possible as Holland began playing in districts last year. Until then, the Class A teams had started tournament play in the regionals.

Both won titles at Zeeland in well-played games while Holland's third tourney representative, West Ottawa, gained the finals of the Class C district in its first year of competition.

This is the first year in history that Holland has been represented in the three classes in the state tourney.

Holland Christian won its district crown against Hudsonville Unity Christian with some excellent shooting and rebounding in the second half.

The Maroons made 25 of 61 shots in the game for a fine 41 per cent while Unity had 19 of 65 for 29 per cent, its poorest this season.

The Maroons started with seven of 14 in the first quarter and then cooled to five of 17 in the second period for 12 of 31 and 39 per cent in the first half.

Christian hit eight of 18 for 44 per cent and five of 12 for 41 per cent in the second half.

Unity made six of 18 in the first quarter for 33 per cent and then slumped to four of 16 for 25 per cent and had 10-34 for 29 per cent in the first half. Unity hit four of 15 for 26 per cent in the third quarter and five of 17 for 29 per cent in the last eight minutes.

Frank Visser led the winners with eight of 14 including six of 14 in the second half while Ken Walters made six of 13.

West Ottawa Loses to Lee

GRAND RAPIDS (Special) —

West Ottawa's basketball team dropped a 66-36 decision to Grand Rapids Lee in the Class C district tournament finals before 2,000 fans Saturday night in the Grand Rapids Rogers gym.

The Panthers finished the season, their first in history, with a 4-6 record. Lee (17-1) now advances to the Class C regionals this week in the Grand Rapids Godwin gym.

George Donze hit a basket in the opening seconds to give West Ottawa a brief lead, the only lead the Panthers had in the game.

Lee hit on its first 10 straight free shots and moved to a 17-11 first period lead. The winners had trouble with the West Ottawa zone in the first half and were forced to shoot over the zone.

The Rebels advanced the margin to 31-19 at half as West Ottawa had trouble penetrating Lee's man-to-man defense. The Panthers weren't driving far enough and stopped to shoot rather than drive in for layups.

This resulted in the losers getting only outcourt shots and few offensive rebounds. Lee, with 6'5" Doug Greenwald grabbing the rebound, then would move its offense into motion. George Donze had eight of West Ottawa's 19 points in the first half.

Lee broke the game in the third quarter as they hit four quick baskets and scored 25 points while holding West Ottawa to six points, including one basket and four free shots. The third period ended with Lee in front, 56-25.

Reserves played the fourth quarter for both clubs. West Ottawa made 12 of 44 shots from the floor for 27 per cent. They made eight of 28 in the first and four of 16 in the second half. West Ottawa made 12 of 20 free throws and Lee, 20 of 34.

Greenwald, Lee's leading scorer, was used as a feeder in the first half and he didn't get a basket. West Ottawa used a 3-1-1 zone with a man in front and behind Greenwald. He played a little more than half the game and made 12 points.

Katsma led the winners with 13 points while George Donze made 12 for West Ottawa. The Panthers are freshmen and sophomores.

Charles J. Lemmen

Charles J. Lemmen

Charles J. Lemmen, Hope College senior, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lemmen of 48 West 13th St. has been awarded a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. The award was announced today by Sir Hugh Taylor, president of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation and dean emeritus of Princeton University Graduate School.

The award carries a basic stipend of $1,500 plus allowances and full costs of a year's graduate study at any university of the recipient's choice in the United States or Canada.

Lemmen has chosen to study in the field of philosophy at either Harvard or the University of California at Berkeley. He was one of 1,259 winners from 355 universities and colleges in the U. S. and Canada and was selected from 8,800 applicants representing 861 institutions.

Studying under a General Motors Scholarship during his four years at Hope, Lemmen has also proved his ability outside the classroom. He is president of the International Relations Club, chairman of the Philosophy Club, editor of Opus, the campus literary magazine, and president of the Knickerbocker Fraternity. He is also a member of the YMCA, Chancel choir, the Messiah Chorus, the Blue Key National Honor Fraternity, Delta Phi Alpha, National German Fraternity, Palette and Masque, the faculty standing committee, the student council and dean's list.

One unusual feature of the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship is that students may not apply directly for the awards — they must be nominated by a faculty member. For this reason practically all of the candidates are superior students and it is considered an academic honor just to be nominated. Besides the 1,259 award winners this year here were 1,203 candidates who were given honorable mention. Among them is Ronald Chandler, a senior history major, and son of Mrs. Madge Chandler of 324 1/2 Central Ave.

Bids for Allegan Courthouse Approved

ALLEGAN (Special) — Allegan county will be getting all the hoped for "extras" in its new county building, it was revealed Monday when a tabulation of contractors' bids was presented to the board of supervisors.

Ypsilanti architect R. S. Gerganoff reported that bids were low enough to provide for hydraulic passenger elevator and freight lift; air conditioning for the circuit court room, terrace floors, tiled corridors and many other extras which had been included in the original specifications as alternates.

The board of supervisors authorized the county clerk, Esther Warner Heltinger, and Chairman Francis Brower to sign contracts totaling $748,410, for general mechanical, electrical work and installation of the elevator and hydraulic lift.

Contracts will be awarded officially to the low bidders as soon as the $50,918 federal grant—from Hill-Burton funds as a contribution toward cost of space for the health department — receives final approval.

Gerganoff told the board that construction would start immediately after the contracts are signed and that completion is expected by mid-January of 1961. He predicted that county offices would be moving into the new building by February 1.

Tabulation of base bids and alternates disclosed that the contract for mechanical work would go to the Holwerda Huizenga Company, of Grand Rapids. Their bids totaled $131,040. Before alternates were accepted, the C. L. Mahoney Company of Kalamazoo was the low bidder.

Status of other contractors bidding on the project was not changed by acceptance of alternates. The Pearson Construction Company of Benton Harbor, with bids totaling $537,790 will receive the general construction contract.

Electrical work will be done by the Kirkhof Electric Company of Grand Rapids which bid $59,015. The Detroit Elevator Company was low bidder on both the passenger elevator and hydraulic freight lift. Their bids totaled $20,565.

County Treasurer James Boyce reported Monday that the special courthouse sinking fund currently totals $788,712.50. With the $50,918 Hill-Burton grant, $839,631.35 will be available for the new building.

Gerganoff said the lowness of the bids will provide for a $15,000 contingency fund, $29,000 for furnishings and $2,000 for landscaping as well as $43,000 in architects' fees and $950 for site surveys and test borings.

Accidents Up In February

Holland's good accident record of January took turn for the worse in February, according to records of Police Traffic Safety Sgt. Ike De Kraker. But February's record still represents a slight improvement over the same month last year, De Kraker said.

Police listed 29 major accidents in the city in February, the same number as January, but the number of minor accidents, those involving property damage less than $100, increased to 70. There were 55 "minors" in January.

In February 1959, there were 112 accidents reported, De Kraker said. Of this number, 50 were major accidents and 62 were minor.

Slippery streets accounted for many of February's accidents as police records show that rear end collisions, involving drivers' failure to maintain an assured clear distance accounted for 26 of the month's 99 mishaps.

Drivers involved in this type of accident usually fail to consider the much greater distance needed to stop a moving car on icy pavements, and as a result follow too closely to stop in time to avoid a collision.

Improper backing and careless driving were the next largest causes of accidents, De Kraker said. Improper backing caused 17 accidents and careless driving 14.

Maroons Play Godwin On Thursday

KALAMAZOO (Special)—Holland Christian's cage squad got past one big hurdle on its way to regional tourney honors here Tuesday night on the Western Michigan University fieldhouse court by stopping University High, 60-57. The Maroons swing back into action on Thursday when they take on Grand Rapids Godwin at 8:30 p.m.

The Maroons, although they led all the way, were pressed throughout by a fast, sharpshooting Cub outfit. Playing on their home court and bolstered by the return to the lineup of center Dave Stafford, who had been out with an injury, the U High squad played one of its best games in weeks, according to Kalamazoo officials. The Cubs, who had been rated as one of the top class B teams all season, finished with a 14-5 mark, two losses coming at the hands of the locals.

Christian, although not playing as well as they did in the district last week, had plenty of poise during the pressure-packed final moments. After the Kalamazoo club had narrowed the gap to 55-53 with two minutes remaining, two quick baskets gave the Maroons an insurmountable lead. Leading 60-55 with 12 seconds left the Dutch gave the Cubs their final basket as they allowed the losers to drive through while the clock ticked off the final seconds.

Both clubs played well as a unit, but also had their individual stand-out performers. For the Maroons, it was Captain Vern Wedeven who led his mates with great shooting from out and fine rebounding. He got valuable aid on the boards from center Frank Visser, Jim Smits and Ben Bonselaa. U High got great performances from classy guard Dave Hamilton and forward Dennis Ketcham, who are deadly outcourt shooters as well as driving threats.

The antics of Hamilton and Ketcham cost the Maroons fouls early in the game, with Ken Walters picking up three early in the first period. Christian did contain U High's blistering fast break, which had been their big weapon all season. Kalamazoo was also in foul trouble during the second half particularly, and lost Stafford for four minutes to go. The Maroons lost Walters a short time later.

Coach Art Tuls' Maroons looked the best in the first period as they broke away from a 7-6 margin to race out to a 17-8 lead at the end of the stanza. Wedeven was the star of the period as he popped in four from the side, a U High defense sagged on center Visser. Each of the four other starters added a basket in the period.

Ketcham caught fire in the second stanza for the Cubs after the Maroons had taken an 11 point bulge, their biggest of the tilt. Using a screen from the side, the U High speedster bombed four to pull his club within striking distance. The Maroons led 26-18 with a little less than three minutes to go, before the Cubs whittled the count to just 26-24 at halftime.

The third period was a real thriller as the Maroons would pull away to four and five point leads, only to see the Kalamazoo come back to narrow the gap to one or two. They never did take the lead, however. Christian had five point margins on three occasions and twice held seven point bulges at 39-32 and 41-24. On each occasion, Coach Earl Borr's Wolverine league champs would fight back. Tuls changed the Christian offensive strategy with Visser being used much more. It paid off as the lanky junior picked up seven points, on only one basket and five fouls. U High's big guns were Stafford and Hamilton with five each. Reserve Ben Bonselaa gave the Maroons a 46-40 lead at the end of the period as he fired a long side court shot as the buzzer sounded.

The Hollanders held the upper hand throughout the final period, but were never able to get a sustained drive going to put the game out of reach. At the four minute mark, the locals led 52-47, on shooting by Bonselaa and Wedeven, but U High twice narrowed the bulge to just two points before bowing in the last stages of the game.

Christian managed only 14 out of 29 foul tries, while the Cubs were hitting 19 out of 28. Stafford alone hit nine out of 10 attempts. Wedeven led all scorers with 24 markers, for his biggest output of the season. He was followed by Visser with 12. Hamilton paced the losers with 18, followed by Stafford with 15.

Presidential Campaign Tips Given to Century Clubbers

Century Club members and guests were treated to a scientific preview of the presidential campaign Monday evening as Dr. Samuel I. Clark and Dr. William V. Weber of the political science faculty at Western Michigan University projected the state and national issues as they see them. Dr. and Mrs. Irwin J. Lubbers were hosts.

Dr. Clark discussed the national issues and problems the Democratic Party will use and meet, together with their strategy. First, they will seek to belittle Nixon using the tack that Rockefeller was a more liberal Republican crowded out before he got started; identify Nixon with the privileged class; identify him with his past (whatever that is).

The Republicans meanwhile will be selling Nixon as Eisenhower's candidate; on the grounds of his experience at home and abroad; his astuteness—he's the only man who has fought with a Communist on the spot; Nixon has appeal.

The problems the Democratic Party will meet with their three major candidates are: Kennedy, the case of the man against the boy, he looks like a college junior just out of the Y swimming pool; he has had no experience, and the religious question which is advantageous in certain respects and disadvantageous in others. Johnson will be a problem because of the Civil Rights issue as it pertains to integration in education. Humphrey, loquacious to a degree that is fantastic, exhausts people. What he says makes sense—he knows how to phrase problems, but is not able to solve them.

Both parties are in agreement on the objectives—the contest will be in how best to achieve them. They are education, military weapons for national defense, public highways and housing, all of which hinge on the stability of the dollar.

The third level of debate on the national scene as Dr. Clark sees it will concern the disposition of the gross national product. This may never arise as such, but it is important—will the GNP be used for public purposes or private purposes—will we use our total energies for luxury items, for rockets, or for education. What is being done to solve the problem of the aged, the mentally ill, the injured, and the laborers displaced through automation.

In discussing the state situation, Dr. Weber called attention to the fact that the citizens are more interested in the federal issues than in the state and local. We pay six and a half times more federal tax than state and local, and the latter does much more for each citizen. Citizens are not solving problems as they arise, leaving them in a mushrooming state to future generations.

Young people are disgusted with politics. Our biggest problem he said is to entice young people to take an interest in government and to recognize today's problems and start to solve them. Current state problems are three: financing of government—Michigan is one of the three fastest growing states in the union, the Legislature has not been able to solve the problem of state financing so it will be up to the people to solve it.

In the question and answer period, Dr. Clark eliminated Adlai Stevenson as a Democratic candidate on the grounds that he cannot win. In the case of the need for a "dark horse" Dr. Clark seemed to think Chester Bowles would be the answer—he has experience, has been close to Kennedy, and he looks like a president.

When asked where he thinks Governor Williams will fit in the national picture, Dr. Clark said "Williams is a natural for a federal post, he has won the gubernatorial election six times, he has a lot of talent as a politician. His big mistake was not letting the increased sales tax issue go to the people. Through this error he has become 'shouted down' before he became a candidate. He however could take a cabinet post, or in four years he might be a presidential candidate."

Music for the evening was provided by a high school senior, Brian Dykstra, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. Ivan Dykstra. His piano selections were, "Toccata No. 6" by Bach; the 1st movement from the "Appassionata" sonata by Beethoven, and three preludes by Kent Kennan, a contemporary American.
